Dear Friend of Thailand,

I have just heard from and spoken to Peace Corps' Crisis Corps office and include the message from them below. If any of you are interested in serving, please access Peace Corps' web site at the URL listed for more information and an application. For those of you who currently reside in Thailand, Crisis Corps would definitely be interested in hearing from you.

Thanks,
Carolyn

Attention all Thailand Returned Peace Corps Volunteers:

The recent earthquake in the Indian Ocean produced one of the most devastating natural disasters in history reaching over 10 coastal nations and creating a yet untold level of damage. The flooding was severe, but as the waters start to recede, the clean-up has begun and we must also prepare for a secondary wave of destruction which could be brought on by the devastation to water and sanitation systems.

The Crisis Corps is a program of the Peace Corps that mobilizes Returned Peace Corps Volunteers and current volunteers completing their service to provide short-term assistance to countries dealing with natural disasters such as this emergency.

Crisis Corps is currently assessing the situation in Thailand and we anticipate a need for volunteers. We are making an appeal to all Thailand RPCV's to consider serving again through the Crisis Corps. We are looking for volunteers experienced in the following areas:

- Water and Sanitation
- General Public Health
- Civil Engineering
- Construction

If you are available for a short term (2-6 months) assignment in Thailand, please send in your résumé and application materials immediately to:

crisiscorps@peacecorps.gov.

Applications may be downloaded from the Crisis Corps section of the Peace Corps website (www.peacecorps.gov <<http://www.peacecorps.gov/>>).

Thank you in advance,

Carrie Miller
